Roll Top Baths	Custom Tap Holes

How to drill custom tap holes

The drilling of tap holes will be seen as acceptance of quality.

We strongly recommend that you use a suitably qualified installer. Instructions must be adhered to. We cannot accept responsibility of incorrect installation.

QUARRYCAST® is drillable with standard drill bits and hole saws.

a. Locate the centre of the tap ledge for the tap holes using the centre of the overflow hole as a guide. Be sure the tap is located on the flat area on the bath and that there is enough space under the rim to tighten the lock nut. Some of the rounder shaped roll taps only give a little room for error.

Derwent, Coniston & Windermere cannot be drilled. A special version of the Derwent is available with tap holes at 7" centres.

b. Mark the "centre to centre" dimensions of the tap holes required directly onto the rim of the bath using a pencil. Most taps come with a technical drawing showing the "centre to centre" dimensions required. If not, you should assemble the tap as it will be installed and measure your tap.

c. Double-check your measurements by placing the tap over the marks before drilling.

d. Drill pilot holes in the rim at each of the marks. Drill directly onto the surface of the bath. This hole should be just slightly smaller than the size of the pilot bit of your hole saw.

e. Enlarge the holes to the required size using the pilot holes as guides, 35mm is standard for most taps in the UK.

- Use a sharp hole saw. If you don't the hole saw may bind while drilling, skip out of the hole and scratch the rim of the bath.

- Keep the drill speed moderately low. Apply just enough power to keep the hole saw cutting at an even rate. If the saw seems to be bogging down, increase the speed a little. Do not exert too much downward force, let the sharp hole saw do the work.
- Remove the scrap from the hole saw before drilling the next hole.

General Installation Instructions For Cast Iron Radiators

Important Information:

Please check the radiator for transport damage and completeeness before installation.
Consult a qualified plumber if you have any problems installing this product.
Compaints made following installation cannot be accepted.

Thank you for purchasing this cast iron radiator.
The model supplied may vary slightly from the images shown, but for any further questions then please contact your retailer.

We recommend that all products are purchased with the assistance of a specialist bathroom retailer and always installed by an experienced installer who is a member of a recognised plumbing association.

During Installation extra care must be taken to avoid damaging the fitting or its finish. To maintain the appearance of the fitting, please ensure that it is cleaned regularly using a clean soft damp cloth only. Abrasive cleaners or detergents must not be used as they may cause surface deterioration. We provide a one year guarantee against faulty workmanship or materials (excluding serviceable parts), providing they have been installed, cared for and used in accordance with our instructions.

For full warranty information please contact your retailer.

General Maintainance & Handling Guidelines

1. Cast iron radiators ARE VERY HEAVY so please ensure you have sufficient help to unload your order when it is delivered to you. It is important that the full length of the radiator is supported and the product is carried upright at all times.

   A common cause of leakage is due to strain on the gasket seals caused by carrying the radiator flat without supporting the middle sections or dragging the radiator.

   The longer the radiator the greater the strain imposed on the water tight seals. Two short pieces of wood 20mm x 50mm x 250mm make good handles when inserted between the last 2 sections at either end.

2. Cast iron radiators are for use on closed heating systems only, they are not suitable for installation on secondary HWS circuits. Upon completion of the installation the entire system must be thoroughly cleaned and flushed to remove debris and flux residues etc.

   When a chemical cleanser is used it must be thoroughly flushed from the system. Following this procedure the system must be closed with a good eminence water treatment to prevent corrosion. System design, flushing and dosing must be in accordance with BS 5449, 1990, BS EN 12828:2003 and BS 7593. We strongly discourages the use of a water softener on the heating system as this treatment can cause the gaskets to deteriorate.

   It is important to note that failure to observe these requirements will render the guarantee on the products void.
   Corrosion inhibitor must be used in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions and recommendations and should take into account the particular metals within the system.

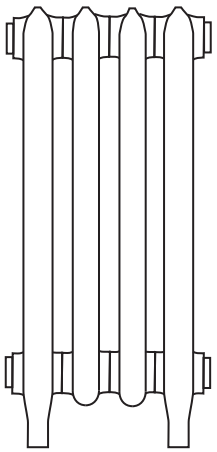
3. The most common cause of leaks is over tightening of the valve tails into the bottom bushes of the radiator. Over tightening will crack the bush. When screwing the valve tail in to the bush turn it finger tight then using a spanner turn it until there is only moderate resistance. Using a 4" (100mm) spanner it is difficult to over tighten. It is easy to over tighten and crack the bush with an 8" spanner.

   A thread sealant must be applied to the valve tail threads to get a water tight seal. LSX sealant available at all plumbers' merchants is recommended. PTFE tape is an acceptable alternative.It should not normally be necessary to unscrew the bushes, but if for any reason you do, retighten them gently, enough only to create a good seal. We do not recommend the use of an 18" Stilson. The torque from an 8" adjustable spanner is more than enough to create a good seal.

   The male thread on each bush on the bleed valve side of the radiator is left hand thread i.e. turn anticlockwise to unscrew. This is the thread that screws into the radiator casting.

   The female threads on the bushes on the bleed valve side of the radiator are normal right hand thread. This is the thread that the inlet or outlet valve or bleed valve screws into. The threads on the opposite side of the bleed valve are all normal right hand thread.

Instructions For Installation Of Cast Iron Radiators.



1. Remove the product carefully from packaging, please take note that cast iron radiators are very heavy. It is strongly advisable that a minimum of two people undertake the method specified in the "General Handling" section of this booklet.

2. Position the product in the desired location.

3. Mark the wall for the location of the radiator stay bracket. (All radiators are supplied with a wall stay bracket for Safety reasons)

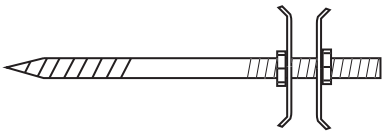
4. Remove product and drill wall.

Prior to drilling into the wall/floor ensure that there are no hidden electrical wires, cables or water supply pipes with the aid of an electronic detector.

5. Insert rawl plug and screw in the radiator stay. Remove the front plate and adjust the rear plate accordingly.

6. Apply a substantial amount of thread sealant (or a length of PTFE tape) to the radiator valve (not supplied) thread and screw into the radiator. Take care not to over-tighten the valve as this is a common cause of leaks. Over-tightening can potentially crack the connecting bushes.

7. Reposition the product and connect to the pipework. Check carefully that all fittings are fully tightened.



8. Re-attach the front plate of the radiator stay and secure by tightening the nut.

9. Fill the system with water and check carefully for leaks. It is advisable to have two people to carry out this action so that one can control the water flow and the other can check for leaks.

10. Provided no leaks are found the system should be flushed with a central heating cleanser to clean out any debris.

11. Fill the system again just using hot water and let run continually for an hour and recheck for leaks.

12. Provided the system is deemed watertight allow the system to continue to run and once at full temperature release any trapped air using the bleed valve.

All radiators (including "cast iron" finish) are painted prior to installation. It is possible to purchase "touch up" paint pots to cover up any miscellaneous damage that might have occurred during installation. Please contact your local retailer for further information.

PLEASE NOTE:

The cast iron radiator products can be extremely heavy, it is advisable to use two people when lifting/moving the product.

IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT THE RADIATOR STAY BRACKET IS USED TO SECURE THE PRODUCT TO THE WALL

INSTALLATION GUIDE

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This guide provides instructions for the installation of Twin & Triple Control Thermostatic Shower Valves. It is beyond the scope of this guide to provided detailed instructions for the installation of auxiliary products which may be attached to these valves. Please consult your installer and any guides which are provided with the other products.

Most problems associated with the operation of thermostatic shower valves are caused by debris in the new pipe work getting into the thermostat.

These problems are easily avoided by thoroughly flushing the pipe work BEFORE the shower valve is fitted.

Twin and Triple Control Concealed Shower Valves are suitable for use with all water supply systems up to a maximum of 5 bar. Pressures above this limit will require the fitting of pressure reducing valves.

This product and any products fitted with it, must be installed in such a way as not to cause water damage during use.

CLEANING

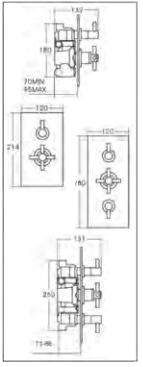
This product is made using high quality chrome plating, this should be maintained using a clean damp cloth, no abrasive agents or materials can be used, use of these agents or materials will invalidate your guarantee.

PRODUCTS ARE APPROVED BY WRAS AND TMV2 SCHEMES.

PREPARATION

1. Remove the retaining sleeves (fig.A). The thermostat sleeve pulls off, the other(s) unscrew. Put all the parts in a safe place.

FIG. A



PLUMBING CONFIGURATION

Display Board Installation Instructions

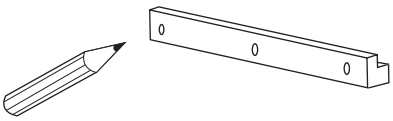
Bringing Bathrooms to Life, For Life

1- Remove the boards carefully from the packaging and carefully check all components are included. For each top section of board two wall batons are included and for each lower section only one is included. (Please note, the wall batons may be attached to the rear of the boards to ensure they are secured during transit.)

2 - Prepare the board by measuring the skirting boards in the desired position and cutting the side legs accordingly to allow the board to sit up against the wall.

3 - Position and align the batons using a spirit level to ensure they are perfectly horizontal. Mark each of the holes and remove from the wall.



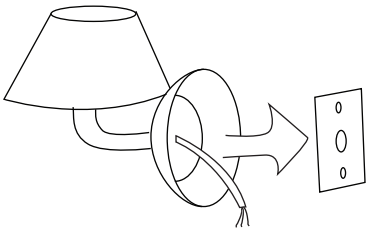
4 - Drill each of the holes and insert the rawl plugs. Please ensure that no hidden cables or pipework reside behind the drill points.

5 - Hang the boards onto the batons to ensure that the fixing is correct prior to installing any products onto the board. Once satisfied remove the top board.

6 - Mark up and drill the central 8mm diameter holes for the lighting cables at the height as designated on the drilling drawing

7 - Remove the main fixing plate from the light unit and attach to the board

8 - Unwire the junction box from the cable and feed through the 8mm centre hole in the board.



9 - Attach the main light fitting to the fixing plate by tightening the grub screw with the allen key provided.

10 - Due to Health & Safety and insurance reasons Imperial is unable to wire the units. You should therefore contact a local professional to complete the activity.

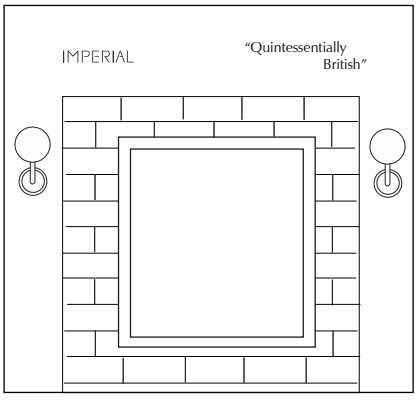
11 - Position the boards onto the batons and apply grout to the join line in the tiles.

12 - According to the drill sheet drawing supplied, measure and mark the tiles with a non permanent marker and then drill with a 3.5mm diameter masonry drill bit.

DRILLING NOTE: When drilling ensure that only the tile is drilled and not the MDF backing board. Also to ensure the drill bit does not overheat ensure that it is periodically dipped into water.

13 - Unpack all accessories and products and carefully attach to the boards by screwing directly into the MDF taking care not to overtighten.

14 - When applying signage ensure that the surface is clean, dry and free of any dust. The small Imperial logo always sits to the left of the board, and the strapline slogan always sits to the right. Remove backing tape and smooth the sign onto the board using a flexible board while taking care to ensure that the sign is level and positioned correctly.



15 - Carefully remove the adhesive paper taking care to avoid rips of the chrome vinyl.

HL/LL WC Pan	High Level Flush Pipe Connection Instructions

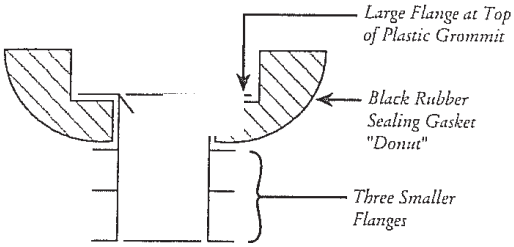

FIG I

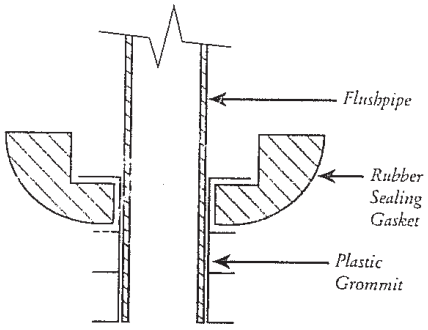
1 Assemble the translucent plastic (neoprene) grommit with the black donut shaped sealing gasket. Insert the grommit from the flat side of the gasket so that the largest flange at the top of the grommit locates firmly in the rebate on the inside of the gasket. The three smaller diameter flanges on the grommit must all protrude at the underside (curved) of the gasket. (FIG I)

2 Insert the end of the flushpipe through the decorative shroud and then through the centre hole in the top of the ceramic cover plate in order to enable fixing to be carried out at the end of the assembly procedure.

3 Insert the end of the flushpipe into the plastic grommit from the flat side of the sealing gasket.



Flush Pipe Must Not Extend Beyond End of Plastic Grommit

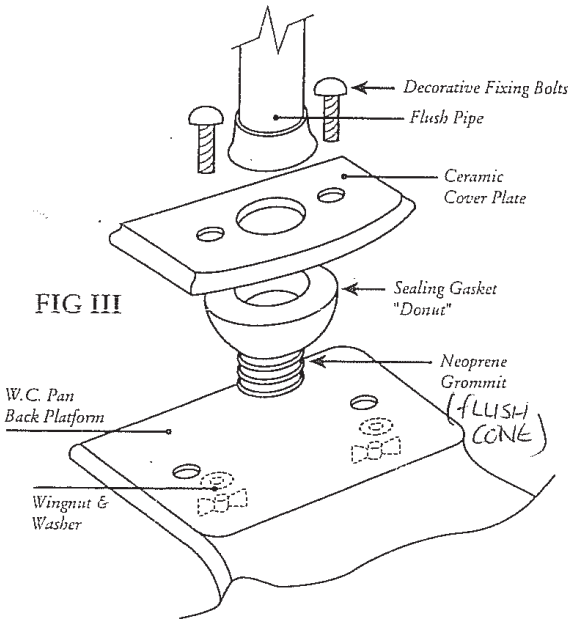

FIG III

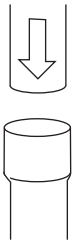
4 Do not push the flushpipe beyond the end of the three exposed flanges of the grommit. To do so will adversely affect the flush and may prevent flush from operating. (FIG II)

5 Locate the end of the assembled pipe/grommit and gasket into large centre hole in the top of the back platform of the w.c. pan curved side of gasket facing into the hole.

6 Secure the cover plate over the pipe and gasket assembly using decorative plated bolts and wing nuts supplied. Care should be taken not to over-tighten the wing nuts. The decorative shroud should be fixed in position on the ceramic cover plate at the base of the pipe. (FIG III)



PLEASE NOTE: When connecting the pipes it is advised to run a bead of silicon around the inside of the lower pipe to help prevent water leakage.

PLEASE NOTE: When inserting the pipe into the WC Pan ensure not to push the pipe in too far as this will restrict the water flow and could affect the flushing function of the WC Pan

Installation Instructions for chrome wall/floor radiators

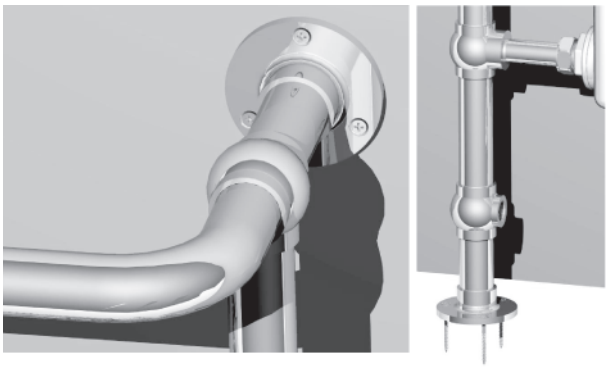
1. Remove radiator and any fixing packs from packaging. Inspect the product fully for any manufacturing defects. Imperial cannot be held liable for any fitting costs for defects that would have been visible prior to installation.

2. If fixing flanges are supplied separately attach them to the radiator and secure in place using grub screw.

3. Offer the radiator up to the wall in the desired position. Please note that the radiator must be installed against a flat wall and floor. Ensure that the selected wall is strong enough to hold the product.

4. Carefully mark out the hole positions for the screws on the wall and floor (if applicable). If the product is fixed using a brass peg system use these to mark out fixing points.

Prior to drilling into the wall/floor ensure that there are no hidden electrical wires, cables or water supply pipes with the aid of an electronic detector.



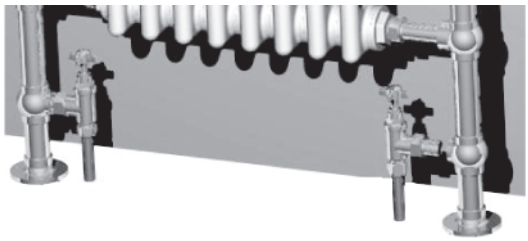
5. Drill holes into the wall/floor to suit the rawl plugs provided.

6. Insert rawl plugs into drilled holes.

7. Secure the product to the wall using the screws through the flanges. Alternately if the product uses fixing pegs please screw these into position, offer the product up to them and secure.

8. Screw radiator to the floor (if applicable).

9. Apply a substantial length of PTFE tape to the thread of the radiator valves (not supplied) and screw the valves into the radiator inlets. Ensure not to overtighten the valves as this can cause irreparable damage to the radiator. This should act to create a watertight seal.



10. Connect the valves to the pipe work.

11. Check that all connections are secure prior to filling with water.

12. Fill the system with water and check carefully for leaks.
    It is advisable to have two people to carry out this action so that one can control the water flow and the other can check for leaks.

13. Provided no leaks are found the system should be flushed with a central heating cleanser to clean out any debris.

14. Fill the system again just using hot water and let run continually for an hour and recheck for leaks.

15. Provided the system is deemed watertight allow the system to continue to run and once at full temperature release any trapped air using the bleed valve.

Instructions for installation of cast iron radiators.

4. Remove product and drill wall.

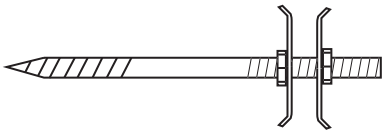
Prior to drilling into the wall/floor ensure that there are no hidden electrical wires, cables or water supply pipes with the aid of an electronic detector.

5. Insert rawl plug and screw in the radiator stay. Remove the front plate and adjust the rear plate accordingly.

6. Apply a substantial length of PTFE tape to the radiator valve (not supplied) thread and screw into the radiator.

7. Reposition the product and connect to the pipework. Check carefully that all fittings are fully tightened.

8. Re-attach the front plate of the radiator stay and secure by tightening the nut.



9. Fill the system with water and check carefully for leaks.
    It is advisable to have two people to carry out this action so that one can control the water flow and the other can check for leaks.

10. Provided no leaks are found the system should be flushed with a central heating cleanser to clean out any debris.

11. Fill the system again just using hot water and let run continually for an hour and recheck for leaks.

12. Provided the system is deemed watertight allow the system to continue to run and once at full temperature release any trapped air using the bleed valve.

Thermostatic Shower Valves	Thermostatic shower valve with 2 controls with diverter

Troubleshooting – Causes – Solutions

Problem	Causes	Solution
The first time the tap is used, the mixed water is hot or cold all the time	The water supply pipes have been fitted the wrong way round	Check and fit correctly
No mixed water output or flow only at the extreme knob positions	One of the water supply pipes has been shut off	Check the stop valves
The mixed water temperature changes when the knob is turned, but only after a certain time lag	The mixer unit is not correctly set Pressure differential between hot and cold water > 2 bars	Reset the temperature Check the water supply pressure levels
The mixer tap does not control the water temperature correctly	The control valve is blocked – An impurity is preventing correct operation	Remove the cartridge assembly and clean it

Maintenance

Warning: remember to close the stop valves before removing the cartridge assembly (see description on page 2)
The thermostatic cartridge assembly is fitted with filters that have to be cleaned periodically (once a year). To do so, remove the cartridge assembly (carry out operations 7 to 1 in that order), and then loosen the cartridge. Soak the cartridge in a mixture made up of equal proportions of water and clear vinegar until all the deposits have dissolved. Lubricate the seals with vegetable oil and wipe the cartridge body with a clean, dry cloth before reinserting
